

SUPPLIER COMMITMENTS: GUIDANCE AND FURTHER INFORMATION

Environmental Legislation

As a supplier, you commit to comply with all applicable environmental legislation in all areas of your operations and supply chain.

Site and product legislation, along with trading and use restrictions, are increasingly being used throughout the EU to increase the level of environmental and consumer protection.

- We expect you to be able to identify any applicable laws and to demonstrate your compliance with them.
- To demonstrate compliance, we expect you to have a working understanding of all applicable environmental legislation in the countries where your products are made, and be able to communicate the steps you're taking in any part of your production or supply process to meet the relevant requirements.
- You should consider that obtaining certification to ISO 14001 for your Environmental Management System is likely to be the easiest way of demonstrating legal compliance.
